

Tech This Out!

Introduction

C Three Business Consultants is proud to announce the beginning of their very own monthly newsletter. Here, you'll be able to find quality information surrounding technology news, business news, and our very own company's news!

Technology News

Don't Let Cyber Ghouls Haunt Your Business This October!

Spooky season is here, but don't let phishing emails, sneaky scams, or lurking hackers send chills down your spine. C Three Business Consultants is your fearless partner in Managed IT Services, offering top-tier cybersecurity and support to keep your business safe from digital frights. Our expert team monitors your systems 24/7, banishing threats like malware, ransomware, and data breaches before they can haunt your operations. With proactive maintenance, robust firewalls, and real-time threat detection, we ensure your network stays as secure as a haunted house locked tight against intruders.

Business News

C Three Business Consultants Partners up with QuickBooks!

Our partner QuickBooks has announced changes to their sales tax amounts in Missouri, which can be found here Missouri Sales Tax Rate Updates. Whether you're just starting a business and need accounting software or searching for a more streamlined accounting software for your current business, we highly recommend partnering with QuickBooks. As an added bonus, if you decide to sign up through C3BC's own referral link, linked here, you'll receive 30% off on their services for 6 months, and who doesn't like a discount?

Team Expansion

Here at C Three Business Consultants, we are happy to announce that we have brought a new face into our network, that being Makayla Schuetz!

Makayla Schuetz

Makayla is a talented Marketing Major at Missouri State University who strives to bring passion and drive towards whatever her task may be. After deciding to take a break from her studies to gain hands-on experience you can't find anywhere else, she's ready to apply her skills in strategic planning, client engagement, and innovative marketing solutions.
